Welcome to CarbKrunchers.com!

Many people think we are the manufacturers of the Carb Krunchers Products, but WE ARE NOT. We were distributors of their products for some years and because they did not have an online presence, we saw the opportunity and purchased that site name. Carb Krunchers only sold directly to distributors, not to the public.

Carb Krunchers was located in Inwood, NJ and we are in Santa Fe Springs, CA.

Our corporation (www.VivaLowCarb.com) owns a walk in store in the Los Angeles area, 7 websites and a wholesale division, carries over 1400 products which are low carb and sugar free.

At the end of 2012 when questions started coming up about CK's nutritional facts, we carefully backed away from the product. We then started working on a line of bagels and breads that we could trust, made for us, supervised by us, lab tested by us. That's how the MiRico line of breads was born. To satisfy all of our web customers low carb needs and to provide reliable and good tasting products.

The CarbKrunchers.com site will continue to offer new low carb products to service our loyal customers. Please try our new line of MiRico low carb breads, bagels, buns and tortillas. Health Express Dist. our wholesale division also makes them available to retailers that are looking for reliable low carb breads.

If you have any questions regarding our own products or the ones we sell, please don't hesitate to give us a call. We want to hear from you!
